Bank of Canada Rapped For Appointments 'Bias'

OTTAWA (CP) — Political bias in appointments to the Bank of Canada's board of directors was rapped Thursday by spokesmen for the Investment Dealers' Association of Canada.

IDAC members told the royal commission on banking and finance that the government should stress financial background in its appointments, and drop the principle of regional representation.

All provinces now are represented on the 12-man board which meets about eight times a year to advise the bank governor. Louis Rasminsky, Commercial Bankers are excluded from the board by law.

The appointments are "becoming a little too political," said M. D. Cox of Anderson and Company Limited, Toronto. If the board was to be of any value at all to the governor, knowledge of Canadian finance was essential.

MILNER AGREES
Arthur J. Milner of Mills, Spence and Company Limited, Toronto, chief IDAC spokesman, said the deliberations of the board should be "beyond politics." The association was trying "to get away from anything political" concerning the central bank.

Village development at Pin-court, seven miles from Terrebonne. Inside the building were Lahaie, Roland Berthiaume, 24, Jean-Jacques Cournoyer, 35, and Dalma Perreault, 29.

They were tracked down by police several hours after the theft of almost $50,000 from a branch of the Bank of Montreal. Perreault and Cournoyer were killed in the battle.

Berthiaume surrendered to the police. He was ordered Thursday to stand trial on a charge of armed robbery.

Lahaie disappeared into the bush during a gun fight which began when police opened fire on a shack in the Greenfield.

H-TEST BAN HINT

Concessions By US If...

WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States has indicated readiness to offer some new concessions to break a deadlock on a long-sought nuclear test ban treaty and has subtly suggested Russia now should offer some concessions of her own.

State Secretary Rusk told a press conference Thursday preliminary U.S. reports of improved seismic detection techniques may reduce the number of control posts and on-site inspections required to make a permanent ban work.

But the improvements won't provide a complete substitution for inspection and controls, he said, and a treaty won't be attainable if Russia continues to reject all Western demands for some inspection of her territory. The U.S. and Britain have proposed a detection system of 280 world control posts including about 30 in Russia. They also have requested Russia allow between 12 and 20 annual inspections of her territory to make sure suspicious explosions are not nuclear blasts. Russia has rejected this saying the West merely wants to spy on Soviet military installations.

Shortly after meeting with reporters, Rusk conferred with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin for 1½ hours on disarmament and Berlin but informed quarters said later "the situation unchanged."

CHICAGO (AP) — The number of children in the United States beaten by parents runs into the hundreds, with a heavy toll of death and brain damage.

That was reported today in an article and an editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association. The statistics were these:

Seventy-one hospitals reported 320 child beatings in one year. Of the victims, 33 died and 85 suffered permanent brain injury.

A survey of 77 district attorneys showed there were 447 such cases in one year. It also brought out that 45 children died and 29 had permanent brain injury.

The Journal commented: "It is likely that it (child beating) will be found to be a more frequent cause of death than such well recognized and

Selwyn Lloyd Ousted; Butler Still Top 'Heir'

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Macmillan today dropped treasury chief Selwyn Lloyd from his cabinet in a major reshuffle. Colonial Secretary Reginald Maudling took over Lloyd's old post.

R. A. Butler was removed from the post of home secretary and given a newly-created portfolio — first secretary of state. He was replaced by Henry Brooke, chief secretary to the treasury.

Altogether seven ministers were dropped from the cabinet. Besides Lloyd, those dropped include Defence Minister Harold Watkinson, Education Minister Sir David Eccles, Housing Minister Dr. Charles Hill, Lord Chancellor Viscount Kilmuir, Secretary for Scotland John MacLay and Lord Mills, minister without portfolio.

The reconstruction of the administration left Butler still in position as Macmillan's heir-apparent. In his new job as secretary of state, Butler will retain his special responsibilities for the European Common Market negotiations and central African affairs.

Lloyd, at one time regarded as a possible successor to Macmillan, has been under heavy fire for his "pay pause" and other economic policies.

Iain Macleod, also seen as a likely successor to Macmillan, held onto the post of leader of the House of Commons and chairman of the Conservative party despite the party's recent setbacks in parliamentary by-elections.

But the cabinet announcement designed Butler as deputy prime minister — a title never before used by Macmillan in making cabinet appointments.

Among those filling the vacancies caused by the reshuffle are Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys, who becomes colonial secretary; Aviation minister Peter Thorneycroft, who becomes defence minister, ALGIERS (Reuters) — The split in Algerian nationalist leadership apparently persisted today after speeches Thursday night by the leader of the two rival factions.

Speaking to an enthusiastic crowd of 100,000 in eastern Algeria, provisional government Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda appealed for unity to build a democratic and social state.

He spoke in the town of Tizi Ouzou, capital of the Kabylia Mountain region east of Algiers. This is considered a stronghold of Ben Khedda, a staunch "Ben Kheddist" and one of the five ministers at the premier's side Thursday night.

Prime Minister Macmillan predicted Thursday "a very great advance" towards banning nuclear weapon tests if U.S. detection methods go on improving.

Macmillan's statement to Parliament came as American and British defence scientists here assessed new seismic techniques for spotting far-off blasts or disturbances.

Abraham Ribicoff told his home state via television from Hartford, Conn., Thursday he has resigned as secretary of health, education and welfare to seek the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator.

Princess Anne returned to London today after a week-long educational visit to France.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. vowed Thursday to continue the integration fight in the south Georgia city of Albany despite his release from jail against his wishes by an anonymous donor of his fine.

Liberal Leader Pearson said in Cornwall, Ont., "grave" economic issues facing Canada must be placed before Parliament soon and then submitted to the Canadian people for a decision.

Bandit May Have Died After Escape Into Bush

MONTREAL (CP) — Quebec provincial police said today Jacques Lahaie, bank robbery suspect who escaped a gun battle with police 10 days ago, may have died of injuries in the bush country near Terrebonne, 20 miles northeast of Montreal.

Thirty provincial police began a thorough search for the 31-year-old suspect today. They expected to be able to recruit a number of civilians to assist them.

Lahaie disappeared into the bush during a gun fight which began when police opened fire on a shack in the Greenfield.

Red China Accuses India Of Seeking Armed Clash

PEKING (Reuters) — Communist China today charged India with trying to "provoke a military clash on the border so as to create an anti-Chinese atmosphere."

"India aims not only to assert its territorial claims on China by armed force, but also deliberately to provoke a military clash on the border so as to create an anti-Chinese atmosphere."

The Chinese foreign ministry spokesman, Mrs. Kung Peng, at a press conference issued two notes concerning recent clashes in the Galway Valley along the

CHURCHILL FIGHTS BACK
LONDON (Reuters) — Sir Winston Churchill's temperature returned to normal today and he was coughing less from his bronchial infection.

His doctors issued the bulletin after announcing Thursday that Churchill had developed the bronchial infection — his third complication since he broke his thigh in Monte Carlo two weeks ago.

"Sir Winston had a comfortable night," the doctors said. "His temperature is normal and he is coughing less."

Earlier Churchill's wife visited him for 35 minutes at Middlesex Hospital and reported he was "rather better today."

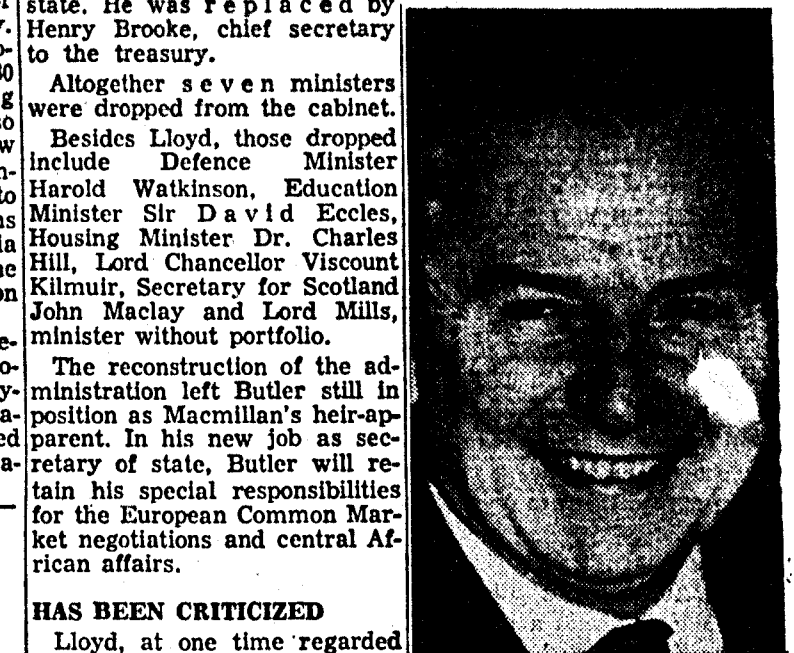

She said he had just had some stitches removed from his leg, which underwent surgery to pin the fractured thighbone together.

Churchill's recovery has been complicated by phlebitis, a vein inflammation, and thrombosis, blood clot, but Thursday's bulletin announcing the bronchial complication said swelling on the leg had decreased.

A hospital spokesman said it was not proposed to issue any further bulletin on Churchill until Monday "if all goes well."

RECORD SHIPMENTS

Wheat Stocks At New Low

OTTAWA (CP) — Record bushels exported in 1960-61 will be surpassed, the report said. Supplies at June 1, with year-earlier figures in brackets: United States 1,389,100,000 bushels (1,484,500,000); Canada 328,400,000 (593,700,000); Australia 83,500,000 (147,800,000); Argentina 15,000,000 (46,600,000).

Canadian exports in the first 10 months were 310,200,000 bushels or 26.3 per cent of the total with 27 per cent of the market export market. This compared in the first 10 months of the previous crop year.

The U.S. had 51.2 per cent of the market, compared to 53.4 per cent in the previous year. Australia had 15.8 per cent as against 14 per cent and Argentina's share was 6.7 per cent, up from 5.6.

The report said record exports reflected reduced crops in western Europe and North Africa as well as the continued high demand for wheat in Asia.

MOSCOW CONFERENCE

Shouts Of "No" Drown Plea For Free W. Berlin

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Shouts of "no" Thursday greeted a plea by an American for Communist recognition of West Berlin as an independent city closely allied with the West.

The appeal was made by Homer Jack, executive director of the American National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, who was speaking as an observer at the communist-backed World Peace Conference here.

The roars of disapproval came mainly from American leftists and East German delegates at the conference, now in its fourth day.

Jack's speech came in the midst of a growing controversy over proposals by British anti-nuclear leaders to hold a ban-the-bomb demonstration despite reported threats of expulsion from Russia.

ARGUE HEATEDLY

Amazed Russians stood in a lobby of the modern congress hall watching members of the more than 100-strong British delegation arguing, at times heatedly, over whether to go ahead as planned with the demonstration in central Moscow.

The issue has brought another split between the British campaign for Nuclear Disarmament (CND) and the British anti-nuclear Committee of 100 headed by philosopher Bertrand Russell, which have clashed frequently on matters of policy in Britain.

Doctor To Quit In Sask. If He Gets 'Involved'

LEADER, Sask. (CP) — Dr. Gerhard T. Beck, a Jacksonville, Fla., doctor who came to this southwest Saskatchewan community eight days ago, said early today he would rather return to Florida than become involved in a possible dispute about his status as an interne.

Dr. Beck came to Saskatchewan after most doctors withdrew services and 200 doctors went on hospital-based emergency service at 35 scattered hospitals July 1 when the medical care insurance program went into operation.

Dr. Beck in a telephone interview said Dr. George Peacock, registrar of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons, had been in Leader Wednesday investigating the circumstances of Dr. Beck's practise.

The Florida doctor is working on an 18-hour-a-day basis as an interne.

"Dr. Peacock figures I've got too much experience to be an interne. I'm 53 years old, you know, and have practised for a number of years in Jacksonville."

Dr. Peacock said an interne is a man who's come to learn and he feels I'm not here to learn but to replace the doctors who left."

OFFERS TO APPLY

Dr. Beck said he had offered last week to apply for a licence with the college or write examinations. "They have the authority to grant me a license," he said.

He said he is the only doctor in Leader. He has four "really sick patients" out of the 15 in the Leader hospital now. He is working as an interne under Dr. Ralph Sutherland of Maple Creek, 66 miles away.

Dr. Beck said, "I didn't come here to make trouble. I just came to help. I've got no interest in any political overtones or implications. I don't even know all about these issues."

He said, "I have no desire to be a martyr. I think it would be only fair if they give me notice if there's going to be any trouble and I'll go back if I have to."

"I asked Dr. Peacock for advance notice if he were going to have me arrested for practising medicine without a license. He didn't say he would."

"I guess I'll have to go to jail if things happen that way, but rather than be arrested, I'd rather go back to Florida."

Dr. Beck said Dr. Peacock had gone back to Saskatoon with his report. "Nothing has come of it so far. I'll just have to continue here until something happens."

HOW MULTIPLE LISTING SERVICE WORKS

Multiple Listing is modern real estate marketing, made possible, and offered by organized Realtors. It is a method of exchanging exclusive listing contracts between members of the same Real Estate Board.

The Listing Broker remains the exclusive selling agent, but all the other member agents and salesmen are given a description of the property and an opportunity to sell it. After signing the listing contract, complete data concerning the property is sent by the listing agent to the central bureau office maintained by the Okanagan-Mainline Real Estate Board to serve members and the public.

This information is carefully edited and assembled on masters for speedy reproduction in quantity by the offset lithography process. A photograph taken at the time of listing is used to complete the printed description. The day after the listing has been received in the bureau office the complete written description, with picture, is sent to member agents and salesmen of the Okanagan-Mainline Real Estate Board from Kamloops to the border. If you have further questions concerning the sale of your property, consult your realtor.

Members of the Okanagan-Mainline Listing Service are Bonded for $100,000

Four Bombers Here To Fight Forest Fires

At 1 a.m. yesterday some fire-fighters landed their water-bombers at Kelowna Airport after battling flames which threatened a community.

They had taken action in the Oliver area and built a guard around the small Indian village of Inkaonoo. A shift in the direction of the wind had helped, and they returned to the airport.

The water bomber, a TBM Avenger, can finish off a fire quickly. It contains approximately 600 gallons of a mixture termed "alurry," a compound of water and a dentonite jelly-like substance.

The machine weighs 19 tons and can travel as fast as 140 miles an hour.

The water bombers have bases in Williams Lake, Penticton, Kelowna, and Kamloops.

Kelowna has a unit of four water bombers and one bird dog. The bird dog travels ahead of the tankers and directs them to the place where the mixture is to be dropped.

Peachland's L. B. Fulks Dies in Hospital at 72

A well-known and long-time resident of Peachland, Leonard Bernard Fulks, great-grandson of Captain Cook, explorer, died in Kelowna Hospital on Thursday, July 12, following a lengthy illness. He was 72.

Mr. Fulks was born in Wigan, England, where he also received his education. He came to Canada in 1906. Arriving in Toronto he joined the Fort Gary Artillery, with which he remained for some years prior to moving to Moose Jaw where he was employed by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

In 1914, he married the former Florence Reeves. They resided in Uncas, Alberta until Mr. Fulks joined the 60th Battalion in July 1915, and proceeded overseas. He was wounded in 1916.

HORSELESS CARRIAGES TO TAKE OVER CHAPMAN PROPERTY.

Kelowna Landmark Falls; Makes Way for Parking

While the newly-formed Downtown Parking Commission has out its plans for the new lot on the Chapman property, a bit of history today is being demolished.

Workmen are tearing down the old Chapman building to make way for progress and some off-street parking to enhance downtown shopping facilities.

Last December, business men eligible to cast a ballot for or against building of a parking lot voted in favor. Subsequently a DPC was organized to administer the area.

The Chapman building has always been involved in the carriage trade.

FIRST OWNER

Its first owner was Cal Blackwood who operated a livery stable where a buggy could be hired at $1.50 an hour and weary travellers could put up their mounts and tuck into some of Mrs. Blackwood's home-cooking.

In 1919, the livery stable was purchased by David Chapman, Senior, who was construction foreman during work on the Glenmore Irrigation District development. In later years, the building was used for storage of Chapman's equipment and miscellaneous truck parts.

The small stone and frame house on the property once lived in by the Blackwoods and an Italian contractor Josi Rossi is also a part of history. Mayor Dick Parkinson can remember when it was used as a sort of hospital around 1906 when a brother was cared for there by Dr. Boyce.

Its last tenant was a postman Jack Wyatt who retired from the service last October after 45 years.

FIREMEN TRAIN

Bringing history up to date, during a recent Fire College held here in connection with Okanagan Valley's mutual fire aid program, the Chapman building, fogged with dense smoke, was used as a training school for volunteer firemen practicing with breathing equipment.

And at a council meeting several weeks ago, two Spokane couples who'd been on holidays here sent along $2 to "preserve the old stone house on the property and find some way of making it a historical monument."

However, the building is coming down. Where once horse and buggy waited patiently at the hitching rail, the crone-studded horseless carriage will park its 200 horsepower.

Apartment Blocks Planned for Area

Total Cost To Exceed Million Dollar Mark

By CHARLES E. GIORDANO
(Courier City Editor)

Two ultra modern apartment buildings with a total value of more than a million dollars are to be built on Kelowna's lakeshore, according to reports here today.

A group of city businessmen are now working on plans for a 50-unit structure to be located at Bluebird Bay off Okanagan Mission Road.

A spokesman for the group who wished to remain anonymous told The Daily Courier today the building will be a modern six-story structure costing more than $500,000.

It is believed his group is now perusing plans and discussing finances.

The location is known in Kelowna as the Lysons property.

Sources say the apartment building will include an ultra-modern swimming pool and scenic landscaping.

SECOND BUILDING

The other building, to be located on Watt Rd., will be built by Townhouse Developments Ltd. and is not expected to be constructed until early spring.

It will be a two-story building containing some 30 units with individual patios.

Exact location is the peninsula at the north end of Watt Rd. Cost of the building is estimated at more than $400,000.

A spokesman for Townhouse said today he believed there was "ample room" for two new apartment buildings in the area.

Sunday Flight To Coast Moved Ahead By Airlines

To accommodate the large number of weekend commuters from Vancouver with summer homes in the Okanagan Canadian Pacific Airlines announced today that its regular Sunday evening flight out of Kelowna will now depart at 7:00 a.m. Monday mornings.

The flight, which stops at Penticton en route, will arrive in Vancouver at 8:45 in the morning in ample time to allow commuting passengers to arrive at their offices on time.

CPA officials point out that Kelowna and Penticton businessmen may now leave home early Monday morning spend the full business day in Vancouver and return home the same evening.

The flight is humorously referred to as the "daddy flight" as a large number of Vancouver families now spend their summer vacations in the Okanagan and father commutes back and forth each weekend.

The new schedule, which goes into effect on Sunday, July 15, will allow these commuting daddies to spend an extra 12 hours with their families.

Those who wish to return Sunday night can still take the 5:00 p.m. flight from Penticton arriving at 6:05 in Vancouver.

During the rest of the week the flight will operate at its regularly scheduled times departing from Vancouver at 6:00 in the evening arriving in Penticton at 7:05 and in Kelowna at 7:40. The returning flight number 11 normally leaves Kelowna at 7:55, Penticton at 8:35 and arrives in Vancouver at 9:40 p.m.

Skaters Set For Show Tonight

A follow-up of the exciting skating demonstration held in Memorial Arena last week is the second pop skating concert of the season to be held 8 o'clock tonight.

The Summer School of Figure Skaters began training during the first week of July, some of the members just learning and others training for competitions.

The featured artist of the evening will be Mrs. Joan Huber of Calgary who is working on the last tests—the Golds.

Top performers will be 11-year-old Belva Nelson of Vernon, Gloria Goodner of Spokane, Patay Paulson and her cousin Valerie Paulson of Calgary, and Bernadette Aubert.

In between the solos, 60 girls will take part in dances on the ice. The show promises to be entertaining and the talent has already proven itself.

Addition To Fire Hall

The Winfield Fire Protection District Trustees have awarded the contract to build a Training and Recreation Room, an addition to the present Fire Hall, to Otto Gertz of Winfield.

The cost of the structure will be about $3,000 and the floor space will be 880 square feet of floor space.

The Fire Protection District is financing the building of the walls, roof, and floor of the Training and Recreation Room and the volunteer firemen will finish the interior at their own expense.

HORTICULTURAL ROUNDUP

Orchardists Focus on Apricots Next Week

While cherry crops in the Kelowna area are being harvested rapidly, orchardists are beginning to focus on the apricot situation.

Early apricots are now coming off in the Oliver area and picking is expected to get underway in the North Okanagan within 10 days.

Here is the complete weekly report on fruit and vegetable situation as compiled by the horticultural branch of the B.C. Department of Agriculture.

Temperatures have been below normal at the coast and there have been some light showers. In the interior, cool weather prevailed for the week-end, but temperatures have been generally higher during this week. Creston experienced frost on July 3.

TREE FRUITS

APRICOTS: Oliver reports a few early apricots are coming off and general picking will begin next week. Size and quality are good at present. In the Similkameen Valley, harvest of the Wenatchee variety is expected to get under way next week. Size is variable in the Penticton area. Harvest should get underway in a week to ten days in the North Okanagan.

CHERRIES: Harvest has started in the Fraser Valley and the crop is nearing maturity on Vancouver Island. Oliver reports the crop is almost off in the South Okanagan. Bings and Vans are past the peak at Penticton with rain and hail damage extensive on these varieties. Summerland also reports moderate to heavy splitting in Bing and Van cherries. Kelowna reports the bulk of the crop is still to be harvested with Lamberts just starting. They are running high to No. 1's. Harvest of Vans and Bings is under way in the North Okanagan and Lamberts will start next week. Quality is generally good with some splitting, and a wide range of maturity. Bing harvest has begun in the Creston area, where there is also mixed maturity in both Vans and Bings.

PEACHES: In the south Okanagan, thinning is almost completed. Size and quality of this crop looks good at this time.

PRUNES: Kelowna reports signs of a heavy drop, but there will still be a heavy crop.

PEARS: Penticton reports trees looking exceptionally good and this, plus a light drop should result in good size. Kelowna reports that Anjou are definitely a heavy crop, and should exceed 1961 crop by one-third. Bartlett's here are scattered and variable in size. The crop will be down from 1961.

APPLES: Oliver reports some Yellow Transparents have been harvested and general picking on this crop will begin next week in the South Okanagan. Harvest is about two weeks away in the North Okanagan. Other varieties are generally progressing steadily.

MISSING BOAT

Police are searching for a rowboat missing from its Truswell Road mooring from July 11. Boat owner Gordon Telford said the craft is dark blue with grey interior, 14 feet long, five feet across the beam. Anyone spotting the boat is asked to call RCMP.

IN FINAL DAYS OF REIGN-PNE NEXT

Diane Alington has entered into the last phase of her reign as Lady-of-the-Lake. It was learned today she will enter the Miss Pacific National Exhibition's beauty contest during this year's festival in Vancouver. It has been a busy year for the pretty bank staff employee crowned at last year's International Regatta. The Lady-of-the-Lake for the 1962-63 season will be chosen at this year's Regatta August 8-11.

Puzzle! Why Should Labor Oppose Striking Doctors

The medicare fight in Saskatchewan has attracted interest all over the continent and many unaffected people are taking sides in the dispute. For instance, labor organizations from many parts of Canada have sent messages of encouragement to the Saskatchewan government and some of their spokesmen have denounced the action of the doctors for withdrawing their services.

The attitude of the labor organizations is interesting. In this instance they seem to have adopted a stand diametrically opposed to their normal position. They say the doctors have withdrawn their services and thus betrayed their trust and brought about hardships on the people of the prairie province.

This may be true, but one would have thought the normal sympathies of labor would have been with the doctors who have done nothing more than labor itself has repeatedly done.

The doctors did not like the working conditions" which would have been imposed under the medicare plan. Accordingly, they withdrew their services. Every strike ever called in this country by any labor union was for exactly those same broad reasons.

Labor vigorously defends the right of the working man to strike. Yet they would deny this right to the Saskatchewan doctors. Time and again, there have been strikes vitally affecting the general public and labor has not paid the slightest attention to the inconvenience, the injury suffered by the innocent public. Yet now labor organizations say that the doctors are causing great hardship on the public!

Presumably, the labor organizations think the doctors who are coming from Britain to work in Saskatchewan under the plan are heroes. Yet labor has several derogatory epithets used to describe anyone who works in a struck plant. "Scab" is one of them. Are the British doctors scabs? Do labor organizations consider them such?

Strike perhaps is not quite the right word to use in connection with the Saskatchewan situation. The Oxford dictionary defines it as "the concerted refusal of workmen to work until some grievance is ended." The doctors perhaps have done just this, but are doctors "workmen"? Rather are they not self-employed persons who have withdrawn their services because they do not wish to lose their status of self-employed persons to work for someone else, who in this case is the government.

But, whether strike is quite the right word to use or not, the doctors as a body have done exactly what labor unions have done on a thousand occasions—refused as a body to work till some grievance is ended or some objective obtained.

All this makes the attitude of the labor organizations all the more puzzling. The answer perhaps could be that the Saskatchewan government is of the political party of which the labor organizations are a part.

Old Age Recedes

To a child of five or six any adult aged from twenty to ninety seems old. Parents, grandparents, uncles and aunts all are lumped together in the category of the aged. They are gods to be propitiated, since they hold authority and the power to reward or punish; but essentially they belong to a different species from the young observer.

As the observer himself grows older, he usually begins to distinguish among his seniors. His parents naturally continue to be old, and worse still, hopelessly old-fashioned. But their contemporaries, who have not the worry of wondering whether the adolescent is on the way to becoming a juvenile delinquent, may begin to appear fairly young, or at least well-preserved.

The young man in his twenties perhaps thinks that forty-five marks the beginning of old age, but when he reaches that stage of maturity himself, provided his health is good, he is likely to consider that he has another good twenty years ahead before he attains the degrading status of "senior citizen."

Most pension plans have been based on the theory that old age begins at sixty-five, but those who have reached that age are not in full agreement with the pension-planners. Again provided that they have been blessed with moderately good health, they can contemplate the future with equanimity, deferring thoughts appropriate to old age until they are in their eighties. It does not disturb them when their grandchildren persist in treating them as anachronistic survivors from the dark ages, for the grandchildren may be better company, in spite of their youth, than some contemporaries.

And to the moderately active seventy-year-old the haven of old age happily remains somewhat beyond the horizon. And no doubt it still is beyond the horizon for a man in his mid-eighties like Sir Winston Churchill. He might admit to maturity, but never to old age.—The Printed Work.

In Passing

According to the commercials, no matter which cigaret and gasoline we may use, we'll be burning the very best.

It isn't surprising to read that single men commit far more crimes than married ones. Wild animals are more ferocious than those that have been captured and subdued.

There are only two dependable ways to get a person to do something he doesn't want to do: (1) Pay him, or (2) Scare him.

"Girls with skinny arms should develop them by rowing a boat," says a health magazine. And there are some girls who should take up bicycling.

"Flasherman Marries Girl He Saved From Drowning."—Headline. There may be occasions when he will wish he had thrown her back.

Another instance of misplaced faith is that of the person who believes a sun tan lotion will prevent sunburn.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Medicare Plan Dispute

The Editor,

In view of the great public interest in the controversy now raging over the Sask. Medicare Plan I would appreciate a little space to correct a number of misconceptions regarding it.

As a former resident of, and recipient of health services in Health Region No. 1, I feel that I can speak with some knowledge on the subject.

Some 15 years ago we organized and launched in S. W. Sask. the first compulsory prepaid all inclusive medicare plan. This plan provided complete medical care to all residents including dental care to children with no limitations or exclusions. The total cost of this plan was only a small fraction of the cost of any private plan that offered far less coverage. This plan has been in continuous successful operation ever since. It is on the past experience of this plan that the Sask. Government has based its present medicare plan.

I would like to say here that we faced the same sort of opposition in setting up and starting the health region as is now being faced by the Sask. Government. When the then Douglas government introduced enabling legislation in the legislature the Liberal opposition damned it and everything it stood for. They did everything within their power to defeat the bill.

In this they were aided by the press which waged a vigorous campaign against the plan. There was strong evidence that the campaign was inspired and financed by drug and insurance companies and other allied interests and the American Medical Association.

Then as now the battle lines were drawn largely on political lines. The various so-called spontaneous citizens' organizations were invariably organized and headed by people politically opposed to the Government. It was also obvious then as now that these organizations had as their objective the defeat of the government and not the welfare of the medical profession or that of the people.

The hierarchy of the College of Physicians and Surgeons used their position of power and trust in an effort to defeat the plan.

One can only wonder at what sort of club they hold over the heads of the many good doctors who are not in sympathy with the anti-social attitude of the College.

COOL THINKING

In the face of such formidable well organized opposition it required cool thinking and a good deal of courage to go ahead with the plan. The unqualified success and universal acceptance of the plan by both the doctors and the people is now history. A few doctors did at the start leave the Health Region as threatened, and we were probably better off without them, others soon replaced them. The ratio of doctors in the health region was better than average for the province, indicating complete acceptance by the doctors. They could then as now, come and go as they pleased, setting up practice wherever they chose.

One largely accepted misconception which is being foisted on the people is that the doctors will be in effect civil servants under the Medicare plan, and that they will be placed on a salary, and told where, when and how to practice. This is entirely false. As in health region No. 1 the doctors will be paid on a fee for services basis. Any person can choose whatever doctor he wants, and the doctor is free to set up practice wherever he desires.

The only difference will be that after the doctor has treated a patient, the medicare plan will pay the doctor's bill on behalf of the patient.

It is indeed a tragedy that the hierarchy of the doctors should use their position of power and trust as they are now doing. All the more so knowing that there are many doctors not in sympathy with the official policy. This will go down in history as one of the blackest pages of the medical profession.

There are many eminent and respected doctors who have openly voiced their disgust and indignation at the stand taken by the hierarchy of the Sask. doctors.

A telegram sent to Dr. Dalgleish, signed by 30 professors of Carleton University states that the College is showing a wilful disregard for democracy.

The doctors have been given power and authority to administer the medical affairs of the country. Questions are beginning to arise if this trust has been misplaced.

Yours Truly,
Henry E. Metke.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Fatal Dose For Pinworm

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Some additional questions have been coming to me about pinworm.

One is, "Since I discovered what I believe to be pinworms on my granddaughter and her little brother, they have both been treated with the new one-dose medication."

"Is this treatment supposed to kill the eggs forever?"—MRS. O.D.

It will kill any eggs that are present, and kill them forever. It won't, however, kill eggs that come along subsequently. Pinworm isn't a germ-born disease, and there isn't any way of "vaccinating" against new attacks, any more than ducking one snowball protects you against being hit by the next one to be thrown.

Another question—Is it necessary to keep on boiling underclothes and bed linens? I cannot reply categorically, although some day perhaps I can, since elaborate studies are being made in search of the right answer.

Some few years ago, when our remedies weren't nearly as effective as now, even with daily changes of linens and boiling, the pinworms persisted. This may have been simply because the medicine didn't kill all the eggs and worms in the intestinal tract, which meant that no amount of outward cleanliness could succeed.

The effectiveness of the new medication is such, however, that some experts now wonder whether boiling of linens is really necessary at all, except perhaps for one such treatment at the time it is given.

However, it obviously remains highly important that the victim (usually a child) should be extremely careful about washing the hands before touching food, the mouth, or the face.

It's worth the trouble to be insistent that the child get in the habit of washing his hands (as well as his face, and even his neck and ears if you can bulldoze him into it) The first thing in the morning.

After that, the rule is to wash before eating anything, or touching anything, or touching the mouth. That way the risk of new pinworm eggs getting into the system is minimal.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can an electrocardiogram reveal if you have had, say, two heart attacks (and not know it)? It was my opinion that it would only show the condition of the heart at the time the test was taken, but not show heart history.—MRS. S.M.

Your view is in error. A heart attack can leave its marks on the heart, and these will show up on the cardiogram or ECG. Yes, it WILL show some heart history.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can gas, odors, etc., from an overflowing septic tank cause serious illness. I air the house several times a day but still feel ill at times.—MRS. A.J.

The odors won't cause serious illness, but can, by the sheer smell, upset you and cause nausea and even vomiting. The untreated sewage itself, however, can be extremely dangerous, spreading such diseases as hepatitis, typhoid, dysentery. So have the situation corrected at once.

NOTE TO M.R.P.: "Cervical arthritis" is like any other, except that it affects the cervical, or neck area of the spine.

OTTAWA REPORT

Foreigners In Control

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

One of the common shibboleths in Ottawa is that Canada needs foreign capital to finance the development of our natural resources.

This is true of every frontier community throughout history; all have needed capital, equipment and often skills from more mature communities.

The U.S.A., for example, depended upon foreign capital for early development, from the years immediately following their revolution right through the era of the opening of the west.

So too we needed foreign capital.

Typically, the developing U.S. raised capital in England to finance the building of their railroads. They obtained this capital in the form of bonds, which of course do not carry any voice in management. Profits permitted the U.S. management to pay first the interest and then the capital of those bonds. Then, having used English capital to finance their venturesome launching, the railroads were finally left free of foreign indebtedness, largely owned and wholly controlled by Americans.

CANADA'S DIFFERENT WAY

In contrast, Canadians have been largely unable to provide the "equity" or venture capital to finance our own development, even with the crutch of foreign investment in bonds. This is because we are underventured and overtaxed; we prefer to put our savings into life insurance, and we have long been so heavily taxed that we find it hard to create private or corporate capital.

Consequently, foreign capital has been quick to seize the bonanza awaiting it here. Unlike the history of those U.S. railroads, it has taken over control of Canadian industries with its investment.

Today, foreigners control 98 per cent of our rubber manufacturing industry, 97 per cent of our automobile industry, 75 per cent of our oil wells, 61 per cent of our mining, and 57 per cent of our manufacturing industries.

We thereby suffer acutely for tries.

two reasons. We can never rid ourselves of the liability to pay the hire of that capital year after year, because that equity capital—unlike the bonds of those U.S. railroads—is not redeemable. Secondly, since that foreign capital controls those industries, it operates them, not in the best interests of Canada or of their Canadian employees, but in the divergent interests of foreign investors, foreign parent companies, and even of those foreign countries—chiefly U.S.A.—where those foreign owners of Canada reside.

EXAMPLES ARE LEGION

Typically, a foreign-owned plant in Canada was recently forbidden by its foreign owners to accept an order from China, because trade with China is banned not by Canada but by that foreign country where those owners reside.

The foreign ownership of our oil wells creates a shocking disadvantage to Canada. Short of U.S. dollars though we are, Canada has to pay out some $350 million in U.S. dollars each year, to buy foreign oil, although we have ample oil here. This is because the international oil companies find it more profitable and expeditious to sell us their foreign oil, rather than oil from their Canadian wells; Alberta oilfields are consequently partly inactive, while jobs abound in foreign oilfields.

This foreign ownership of our enterprises tends to keep us a nation of hewers of wood. Our foreign investors ordain that Canadian natural resources should be exported in the form of unprocessed raw materials, to be processed by well-paid workers in foreign plants. At the same time, many foreign-owned plants in Canada are forbidden to compete in the export market, which the foreign parent companies wish to preserve for themselves.

Thus foreign capital, in the form of "equity" investment in which we have admitted it, keeps us in perpetual economic servitude. Many years ago, Ottawa should have initiated policies which would forbid foreign control of Canadian industries.

UNITED KINGDOM OPINION

East Sussex Steps Out Ahead of UK

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Eng.) Correspondent
For The Daily Courier

HASTINGS, Sussex—The East Sussex City Council is stepping out ahead of the rest of Britain in a new procedure which it is hoped will bring greater co-operation between the public and the police force of the country. The scheme being evolved by the council provides that by the end of this year, there will be payments of compensation for people in the country who are killed or injured while assisting the police in the execution of their duty.

East Sussex Council is taking a pioneering step in making these provisions. There has been some discussion by the government of a national plan to provide compensation for all victims of crimes of violence. There is very little prospect, however, of any legislation towards this end being introduced at the next session of parliament. So the East Sussex Council will have the distinction of being the first body to enact compensation provisions.

The East Sussex scheme provides that people in the country who are injured while helping a policeman to make an arrest or to maintain law and order, will receive up to $45 a week in lieu of lost earnings for a period of up to two years. In the case of a person being killed while assisting the police, the maximum compensation for relatives will be $15,000 or $300 for those up to the age of 16.

This is an entirely new departure for a county council to make. Until now, there has been no legal sanction for the payment of compensation, which has been paid simply as an act of grace.

Spurred on by the initial find, searchers discovered another form of ocean crustacean, scud. Two forms of plankton and three species of fish—herring, trout-norch or silver chud and sculpin—were also found.

The find is of interest to scientists mainly because it supplies clues about the flow of glacial waters.

When the weight of the retreating ice-cap was removed from the land, the earth bulged and water flowed out to the sea along certain routes. The Alouette lakes have now been identified as one of these channels of glacial waters.

The Alouette lakes are part of the Petawawa outlet. Other outlets were along the Ottawa valley and the Trent River.

being worked out, but it is being arranged on an insurance basis. It is likely that the government, through the Home Office, will be asked to help in paying the insurance premiums.

The chief constable of East Sussex, S. Leader, explained: "We think the public are entitled to some protection when they assist the police."

He agreed that the scheme would encourage more people to give their help and that it might improve relations between the police and the public generally. But he stressed:

"In East Sussex the relationship between police and public is absolutely first class. In recent months we have had several instances in which members of the public have come forward to help. A boy and a girl followed a housebreaker and this led to his arrest. On another occasion a postman took the number of a car in a hijacking job."

"One of our difficulties is that the British are a naturally reserved race. If they see two men fighting on the street, and one man is a detective, they are not particularly anxious to get involved as they feel it is none of their business."

ANN LANDERS

Sloppy Look Unnecessary

Dear Ann Landers: In answer to the question you put to the housewives of America—"How did YOU look when you went marketing today?" I would like to reply:

I looked like a sloppy, ill-groomed, over-worked housewife. And here is why: After playing chef, laundress, charwoman, chauffeur, and nurse for a family of six, I pulled a few weeds, painted the store-room and fixed some leaky faucets. Then I started to bake a cake. I discovered I was short a few eggs, so—resplendent in grass-stained pedal-pushers, and hair in curlers, I made a quick trip to the market. Of course I ran into the minister, my son's math teacher and the president of the League of Women Voters.

Frankly, I didn't give a hoot. My husband doesn't happen to like curlers in his face at night, so I pin my hair up during the day. By the time he comes home for dinner I'm showered, brushed and lipstick—looking like a silverware ad in my crisp little housedress.

When he pats my freshly-scrubbed face and runs his fingers through my curly hair do you think I give a plugged nickel what the people in the market thought about my appearance three hours earlier? —ELEPHANT HIDE

Dear Ann Landers: I am concerned about the sex life of college students. Our fourth child, now 18, will be a sophomore in college next Fall. Her boy friend is attractive and intelligent. He will be a senior. They both hold campus offices.

Our other three children are college graduates. We want this girl to get her degree, too. But I learned recently that she has been sexually intimate with this young man and now I feel we should not allow her to return to college in the Fall. If she became pregnant I would never forgive myself.

We have made great financial sacrifices for our children. This girl's conduct is a deep disappointment to me. Am I right to feel that since she has failed us, we should not allow her the privilege of a higher education? Please give some badly needed counsel to a—LET DOWN MOTHER

Dear Mother: I can understand your deep disappointment, but you're on the wrong track. Refusing to send your daughter back to college would be purely punitive and would serve no useful purpose. A girl so punished might retaliate by becoming promiscuous. I suggest that you have a frank talk with her. Scolding and recriminations will do no good. Explain that sex outside of marriage is dangerous, foolish and short-sighted, and that she is playing with dynamite.

Dear Ann Landers: Recently I went to a funeral home to pay my last respects to a friend and neighbor. I was shocked to see the children of the deceased chatting nonchalantly and taking pictures with flash-bulb cameras. The oldest son had a movie camera. They took pictures of their mother beside the casket. Then they took shots of the floral offerings and candidly of the people as they entered the funeral home.

The final straw was when one of the girls took a picture of her father as he lay in the casket.

I was appalled. Tell me, please, am I being unduly critical? If so, I will change my way of thinking. —WILLING TO LISTEN

Dear Willing: Cameras and flash bulbs have no place at a funeral home. Of course it is the prerogative of the family to do as they wish, but in my opinion such goings-on are inabominable taste.

Queen Taps Toe As Old Tunes Begin Festival

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth tapped her silver shoe and sang:

"On Mother Kelly's doorstep, down Paradise Row, 'I sit along of Nelly and she sits along of Joe, 'She got a little hole in her sock, 'A hole in her shoe, a hole in her sock, 'Where her toe peeps through . . ."

Strongly and clearly the Queen's voice came through from the front row at Mansion House Monday night, where they kicked off London's 13-day Festival of the Arts with an old-time sing-song.

The Queen sat with a tinkling audience at a masque in the ancient Mansion House, depicting moments from the old city's illustrious history.

A former Music Hall star named Randolph Sinton, dressed in top hat and tails, led off the singing.

Signature Tune Mother Kelly's Doorstep—a hot number in his day—had been his signature tune.

When he finished the opening verse he invited the audience to join in.

They hesitated. For a moment it looked as though no one would sing.

Then a woman's voice echoed sweet and clear from the chairs in the front row. It was the Queen singing.

The rest of the audience joined in.

Air Of Festivity Pervades 11th Ogopogo Golf Tournament

The first Ogopogo Tournament to be played on our new eighteen hole golf course opened on Thursday morning at 7:30 a.m., and the Kelowna Golf and Country Club was a veritable beehive of activity when visited by your Woman's Editor at noon.

Over the crowded parking lot hung strings of red, white and blue pennants interspersed here and there with flags which fluttered gaily in the gentle breeze, and the club house of course was in gala array. Beautifully arranged vases of roses, Esther Reed daisies, tiger lilies and sweet william graced the mantel and tables in the lounge, and many guests were enjoying lunch in the sun at the patio tables under colourful umbrellas.

Working busily at the large scoreboard were Mrs. A. S. Underhill and Mrs. Muriel Wilg, who were the first pair of a relay of lady members who are keeping the score tallies; and calling the names and starting times through the microphone from his seat on the caddy house verandah was Mr. Gordon Smith; while seated at a small table near the first tee were Mrs. Maurice Meikle, selling "hole in one" insurance, and Mrs. R. P. Walrod and Mrs. Edward Duck, who were distributing intriguing looking boxes of favors. In fact an air of excitement and festivity was everywhere.

On Wednesday evening visitors to the Ogopogo Tourney from the Upland and Colwood Golf Clubs of Victoria entertained the executive of the Kelowna Golf Club and their Ogopogo workers with a cocktail party at the Capri Motor Inn which was attended by twenty-seven Victoria Golfers and their wives as well as the Kelowna guests.

Thursday night an outdoor Bar-B-Q supper was held on the clubhouse lawn, and was followed by dancing to the music of Carl Dunaway and his Combo. Friday evening there will be dancing and the guests will also be entertained by a professional comic from Los Angeles. And on Saturday of course the presentation of prizes will be the main feature of the evening and will be followed by a dance.

Better Late Than Never

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP)—To Harry Moore and his new bride, Mae, the saying "better late than never" has a personal meaning.

Harry and Mae were married Thursday—50 years to the day after their wedding was originally scheduled.

"I've got my happiness now," said the smiling bride. At 71, Moore is already a great-grandfather. Mrs. Mae Hensley Pump, 69, of Mobile, Ala., also had married and raised a family.

They have known each other since their teens when they met in a church choir at the old Kings Chapel Methodist Church near here.

They had planned to marry on Harry's 21st birthday, July 5, 1912, but Mae's parents objected.

The young couple separated. But they never forgot each other.

Last April Harry, a widower, renewed contact with Mae whose husband had died. He visited her in Mobile. Soon they were planning their wedding again.

RCAF Posting Brings Airwoman Back To Her Native Country

BADEN-SOELLINGEN, Germany (CP)—Leading Airwoman Edith Beyer and Annemarie Vandervliet both joined the RCAF because they wanted to travel.

For Edith, her present posting brought her back to the country she left at the age of 2.

"I wanted to see more of Canada and I ended up here," says Annemarie, a native of Holland.

Residents of this area are often startled when Edith answers them in fluent German. She was born in Zennernhessen and moved to Canada with her parents and four brothers and sisters.

Because she speaks German, the 21-year-old airwoman frequently helps other RCAF personnel decipher with landlords for housing accommodation in the towns and villages near this RCAF base.

While attending school in Hamilton and Windsor, Ont., she planned to get a job, save some money and travel to Germany for a holiday. She went into the air force several months after finishing school.

"I used to read the signs on the bus that said 'Join the RCAF and travel' so I decided to do it."

FAMILY THRILLED Her family was thrilled when already have laws to cover this.

Take Cherries On Picnics

Going on a picnic? The dessert problem is easily solved with fresh fruit because it's both sweet and thirst-quenching. And right now, plump and juicy B.C. cherries are the best solution of all—they're plentiful, attractively priced and so easy to serve.

Easy to pack, too. Just before you leave home, wash them, then tuck into plastic bags. It won't matter if there's still a little water clinging to them and their appetizing color will show through when you set the bag in the centre of your picnic spread.

Bite-size cherries make "divvying up" the dessert especially simple. There's no waste when each picnicker can help himself to as many, or as few, as his appetite is equal to.

Water-Bombing Planes A Forest 'Insurance'

VERNON (Staff) — "Water-bombing is not the complete answer but for this year it is a million dollars worth of insurance for the forest industry which in one year can contribute close to half a billion dollars to the provincial income," stated Bill Edwards, here to commentate on the water bombing display Sunday. Mr. Edwards is information officer for the Forest Department stationed at Prince George. He said providing no fires demand that the bombers — the Avenger flying tankers capable of slinging 600 gallons of mud and water in one drop — are not required for any outbreaks that might occur before now and the weekend they will be over the prepared target at the head of Kalamalka Lake on Sunday close to 1:30 p.m. For this public demonstration

Orchards Building Destroyed

VERNON (Staff) — Converted two-story workshop at the old Vernon Orchards burned to the ground yesterday. No one was injured. Firemen say a torch from an acetylene cylinder touched off the blaze. Equipment in the building was totally destroyed. No estimate of damage was made. A house, 30 feet away from the charred building on the old Armstrong Road also caught fire, but it was soon brought under control. A second fire yesterday occurred in a truck owned by Vernon Box Company. The vehicle was at the city disposal dump at the time.

Lumbly Buys Property

LUMBY (Correspondent) — Village commissioners here report the purchase of 40 acres in the Trinity Valley area said to contain first class gravel. It was also reported that the extra large pipes to be used in an experiment to try to solve Lumbly's water pressure problems at high levels has been ordered but must come from the factory. W. K. Smith from the Department of Municipal Affairs was visiting the village shortly and commissioners intend to ask some questions concerning the proposed discontinuing of the municipal grant. A new site for a library has not been found, but it was reported that Mrs. Foulks, Kelowna librarian, would be in town to give assistance this week. FREIGHTER SINKS KOBE, Japan (AP) — A small Japanese freighter sank Wednesday after colliding with an 1,839-ton passenger ship in the inland sea near Kobe, the maritime safety board reported. Three seamen from the 170-ton freighter, No. 75 Tatsumi Maru, are missing. There were no injuries among the 450 passengers and 58 crew members of the Kogane Maru of the Kansai Shipping Company. The Kogane Maru rescued six freighter seamen.

ACCIDENT SEQUEL

Vernon Man Dies

VERNON (Staff) — The Vernon man who connected with high tension wires from the roof of a building being moved on Highway 57A Thursday died in hospital late last night. The man has been identified as Alfred Kraft, a 20-year-old employee of Mayer Moving and Builders here. His identity was withheld by police yesterday until his parents were notified in Vancouver. About nine miles north of Vernon, manager of the firm James Mayer and Kraft attempted to clear power lines from the path of the moving building. Kraft was thrown 19 feet to the ground striking a large timber before he hit the ground. He died of severe burns and internal injuries. Mayer was not injured.

Speed Blamed In Fatal Crash

A coroner's jury in Vernon investigating the July 4 death of Kenneth Richard Travis of Merritt has recommended improvements at the junction of Long Lake Road and Westside Road two miles south of here. The jury found Travis died as a result of an accident caused by "excessive speed." Const. I. Bailey said the junction, with its raised timber traffic island, would be dangerous to anyone driving over 20 m.p.h.

Lequime Sold For $500

VERNON — Vernon has sold the ferry, M.V. Lequime, to Fred Walker, of Cranbrook, for $500. The craft will be moored off-shore at the Lakeside Hotel, Okanagan Landing, and will be used as a marina. The city could find no suitable use for the ferry; which it acquired from the provincial government about two years ago for the sum of one dollar. The city salvaged a lot of material which it is put to other uses; or which will still be useful in other projects. The ferry was originally boarded up, but it was broken into and damaged extensively. The M.V. Lequime was used as a ferry between Kelowna and Westbank prior to the Okanagan Lake bridge being built.

POLICE COURT

Miller were fined each $25 and costs for being intoxicated in a public place. Gerald McKim was remanded for trial for two months on a charge of breaking and entering Malmac Auctions here last month. The decision was made by Magistrate Frank Smith following medical testimony which stated McKim was unfit to stand trial now. He is undergoing treatment.

UNUSUAL DESIGN UTILIZES SPACE

Architect R. Whitely, of Don Mills, Ontario, has used space to good advantage in this unusual four-level house. Although designed for a flat site, the house could be suitably adapted for a lot sloping down from the street. The kitchen and family room, on the intermediate level, face the street and would still present a commanding view on a sloping lot. The house-wide, open platform across the front is reminiscent of earlier houses with their long porches and verandahs. At the rear of the house on the upper level are three bedrooms and a bathroom, well separated from the living area. Further privacy is ensured by the lower-level living room and extra bedroom and washroom. Laundry and heating facilities are on a fourth level. The total floor area is 1,392 square feet and the exterior dimensions are 32 feet by 28 feet. Workings for this house, known as Design 766, may be obtained from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

How To Fill In 'Wears' On Linoleum Floors

QUESTION: A small hole, right near the threshold, has been worn in our kitchen linoleum. Is there any way to fill or repair this so it won't be so conspicuous?

ANSWER: Yes. First smooth the edges of the hole with fine steel wool. Then pulverize a small piece of matching linoleum and make a paste of this and spar varnish. Force the paste into the linoleum hole and allow to dry hard; then polish with a thin coat of paste wax.

STATIC ELECTRICITY

QUESTION: We are bothered with static electricity in our living room during the winter. When we walk across the room and touch the metal electric or a metal lamp, we get slight shocks. How can we eliminate this?

ANSWER: When the air is dry and the weather cold, friction (such as walking across carpeting) builds up static electricity. Introducing more moisture into the air will reduce this: place open, shallow containers of water on radiators; in extreme cases an electric humidifier can be used. Antistatic preparations to be applied to carpets is available at many rug cleaners and housewares dealers; recommend consulting a professional for advice as to the best one to use, to avoid getting one which will cause dirt to adhere to the carpeting.

DULLED TILE FINISH

QUESTION: I removed spatters and streaks of paint from the plastic tile in the bathroom with paint remover. Now the finish is dulled in those areas. Is there any way to restore the shine to the tile?

ANSWER: Yes. Rub the dull tile areas with a thick paste of fine powdered pumice and water, then polish with a thick paste of powdered chalk and water.

Go After That Rose Prize!

There are a great many people who have only a few rose bushes and who feel quite sure that there is no use in their trying to compete with a person who has several dozen or hundred. But, we should remember that the Best Rose in the Show is cut from one rose on one bush, and yours is just as capable as anyone's. And don't let lack of experience keep you away. Read the show schedule, bring your material, come and ask questions. You will find the officials at the show more than happy to help and guide.

A prize-winning rose is the end result of good cultural practice, some work and a little luck. Preparation begins of course with the culture, but the final stage begins well before the show. As likely-looking stems begin to show signs of budding, keep a closer watch on them. If side buds develop on a stem with a strong terminal bud, take them off while they are still small. If you have to remove more than two or three side buds it might be better to select other stems for showing. Any disbudbing done just before the show leaves signs that will cost you points in the judging. Floribunda type roses require no disbudbing since they are shown in a spray. All the buds and bloom on the stem or spray are of the same bloom period. All bloom on a spray must be starting to open. Observe the roses for several days previous to the show, with the schedule in hand. In this way you will have a pretty good idea of what you are going to be able to show, when the time comes to do the cutting. Plan to enter the classes for which you have the best material. Concentrate on a few classes rather than trying to enter all classes. Be sure your specimen fits the class in which you wish to enter, as to variety, number and color.

Burn, Bash, Bury, Say Guides As a Sound Motto for Campers

"Burn, bash and bury" is a good camp motto, according to the Girl Guides Association of B.C.

With well over 7,000 young members planning to camp out this summer in much the same fashion as families do, a spokesman for the Girl Guides suggests: "A clean camp is a must, and families camping will want to observe this rule, too. Litter bugs are literally 'bugs'."

All fires should be burned in the campfire before disposal. Cans with the labels left on take 25 years to disintegrate under normal conditions. With the labels off they take ten, but if they are burned first they will disappear in only two years.

Aluminum foil, the camper's friend, can't be burned or bashed, but it can, and should be buried. Even dirty dish-water and grease should be poured into a hole dug for that purpose and then covered with a little earth. Tossing it into the nearby shrubbery spoils the scenery and gives the flies a field day.

DIG HOLE
If garbage is also a problem the only thing to do is dig a hole for it, too. Keep it covered with branches and fill it in with earth a little at a time. When you leave complete the job. Girl Guides leave no tell-tale messes behind.

The closer you camp to civilization, the more likely it is that the water will be contaminated. If in any doubt, boil it for at least 30 minutes, let it stand and then pour it from one container to another to aerate it again. Less trouble and just as safe are chlorine tablets. Two of these, available from any drugstore, and allowed to stand in a quart of water for 30 minutes purify it for cooking or drinking.

Sleeping bags should be aired

Tourists' Spending Likely To Go Over Top This Year

OTTAWA (CP)—Spending by foreign visitors in Canada this year may substantially exceed $500,000,000 for another record, officials said today.

Queries and reservations so far have been running ahead of 1961. So have vehicle border crossings.

At least part of the reason is attributed to the devaluation of the Canadian dollar in terms of United States currency, giving American visitors from six to eight cents more spending power on each dollar.

The dollar was pegged at 92.5 cents American May 2 and the tourist industry has been a direct beneficiary, it is held.

Foreign tourist earnings from all sources last year totalled a record $173,000,000. This was outstripped only by newsprint and by wheat.

Ninety per cent of the tourist income is from U.S. sources.

GETS MORE INQUIRIES

The Canadian Government Travel Bureau said today that its rate of inquiries was about six per cent ahead of last year toward the end of June. Border crossings by American vehicles were running three per cent ahead of a year ago when the 12-month total was 9,650,000. May and June were expected to continue the sharp increase of seven per cent recorded for April alone.

About a third of the vehicles stay more than 24 hours. The Trans-Canada Highway is a major source of American interest this year, the travel bureau reports. The opening of the final hard-top section in British Columbia is scheduled visitors want to take that route through the mountain ranges.

Quebec's Laurentian area reports high bookings. So do the Thousand Islands and Muskoka Lakes areas in Ontario. Toronto, paced by the recent five-day Shriners convention, is said to be having an excellent year.

Some resorts have reported bookings higher by 50 per cent than a year ago, travel bureau officials said.

The bureau's advertising budget for the current fiscal year has been increased by $100,000 to $1,800,000, and this is all spent in the U.S. There is no advertising in Europe although the bureau has opened an office in London.

Swimming Spots Abound In Vernon and District

Tourists, and we all become them in the Okanagan during summer, should never miss Vernon.

Vernon is a progressive city of more than 10,000 lying between three lakes. There's Okanagan Lake, on which all major communities lie, Kalamalka Lake and Swan Lake. The finest swimming in the Okanagan, Vernontites like to boast, is on Kal Lake... the Lake of Many Colors. The water is crystal clear and the beach has golden sand.

Actually it's not in Vernon at all, but in neighboring Coldstream just three miles away. Six miles from the city centre and west is Kinsman Beach on Okanagan Lake. It's been vastly improved this year and a small park affords shade and picnic facilities. There's a riding stable and campsites and boats for hire.

OLDEST CITY
A further mile on the east side of the Lake is fabulous Adventure Bay Resort. It should be known that Vernon is the oldest city in the Okanagan. It was incorporated in 1892. For years it was the sole county seat for Yale. Today it shares the honor with Kamloops where spring and fall assize courts sittings are held.

Vernon's main street — Bernard Avenue—is elm-tree lined and offers relief from the hot, plaguing public from the hot, pleasant north Okanagan sun. There are three major hotels in Vernon and a fourth is nearing completion. In addition there's a complement of fine modern motels in the city and bordering the city limits.

GONE FISHING

with
JIM TREADGOLD

Fishing in the district in the past week shows signs of slowing up a little but is above average for this time of the season.

The warm weather has a tendency to make the trout less active, no doubt the steady sunshine slows the fish down as much as the fishermen.

I have been asked a lot lately just what are the limits on game fish in this area, so for the benefit of all here are the '62 regulations: The daily limit of sport fish is 12, two of which may be over 20 inches in length; possession limit is three days' catch; There is no catch or possession limit on kokanee or whitefish and no minimum size limit on game fish.

Okanagan Lake is still producing kokanee in quantity. Bill Day reports a catch of 36 kokanee and two trout one day this week. Harvey Ward and Frank Freston came in the other evening with three good sized trout up to eight pounds, taken in the South Mission area on large plugs.

Pintry Camp reports fishing has fallen off from the previous week, but that several fair catches of kokanee on Willow Leaf and Dick Nite. The large Ford Fender troll with two spoons and a number two Dick Nite R&W trailed about two feet behind has been a deadly lure on the kokanee lately.

Beaver Lake is holding up well on flies, especially for the dry-fly artist, and on flatfish. Virgil Willett reports a limit catch on Beaver in three-quarters of an hour with the Brown Hackle dry fly, with nice silvery trout up to two pounds.

The Dee Lake chain has been producing well, with the hot spots being the top end of Crooked Lake, the Channel above that lake and in Island Lake.

Nick Krimmer reports Postill Lakes are all yielding good catches. Grant King and his son of Penticton had some excellent dry-fly fishing on South Lake, taking fish up to two pounds on the green ledge.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Otto of Oregon took 48 trout in two days of trolling the Grizzly King and Silver Flatfish. Heron Lake is producing limits on all lures. Twin and Meadow Lakes have been giving up fewer fish but these have been of the larger variety up to four pounds.

Jack Whittenhan, Jack Boutwell and party made an excursion into Lake Drinke, beyond Esperon Lake last weekend. After cutting out wind-falls for many hours they managed to get into Drinke but could not make it to Long Lake.

The road in is very wet and not even fit for jeeps! However, for their efforts they were rewarded with good fishing on the fly and also sighted a bull moose.

Oyama Lake was quite slow last weekend. This lake always goes 'off' during hot, sunny periods, probably because it is shallow and warms up quickly.

One good report of large fish being taken at Spanish Lake. Am not familiar with a Spanish Lake in this area, but it could be Spa Lake which does have large fish.

A few trout are being taken out of Kalamalka Lake. Mission Creek is producing a few nice brook trout as the water recedes in the upper levels together with a few larger trout in the lower reaches.

An angler reports losing a green tackle box full of gear at the Fish Ladder last Saturday—Would the finder please advise.

Now that the hot weather is here look after those fish you catch. Clean immediately—this is a must. Keep the catch cool and store where the flies cannot get at them. If a cooler is not carried, wrap the fish in a damp cloth and keep them as cool as possible.

The Wayne Hill party did very well at Eileen Lake last weekend. This lake is a few miles, by trail, west of Bear Lake.

Major Solunar periods for Saturday are 8:20 a.m. and 8:45 p.m. with a minor at 2:35 p.m. For Sunday, the Majors are 9:10 a.m. and 9:40 p.m. with a minor at 3:25 p.m.

Late report from the Dee Lake resort: Fishing during the day has been quite slow but the late evening fly fishing has been very good on Grey Sedge, Grizzly King and Spruce flies.

Some of the better catches in the last two days... Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich of Seattle caught 22 nice trout at Alex Mt. Lake mainly on the Spruce Fly. Mr. Lemmon and son of Seattle had very good fishing on Wilma Lake using Grizzly King fly and Yellow Flatfish.

The largest fish of the week was caught at Doreen Lake by Mr. Liska of Portland, weighing in at four pounds, was taken on Red Carey Fly. There are still accommodations available at the Dee Camp at this time.

Don't forget the Pennask Lake road work party on Saturday and Sunday. For transportation, or if you have some available, get in touch with EARL POPHAM of Victory Motors.

Seven New Records Set At Coast Swim Contest

VANCOUVER (CP) — National records fell with regularity at the Canadian swimming and diving championships Thursday, many of them surpassed by half the finalists in the events concerned.

By the end of the 11 hours of competition at the meet's second day, seven new Canadian marks were on the books — three of them set by Montreal swimmers.

Meanwhile, two Ontario favorites took home the first diving silverware and immediately became possible members of the Canadian team that will compete in November in the British Empire games at Perth, Australia.

Ernie Meissner, 25, a travel agent from Kitchener who dives with the Etobicoke Aquatic Club, near Toronto, came from behind to win the men's one-metre springboard.

Tom Dinsley, 21, of Vancouver, finished second, less than a point behind Meissner. Irene MacDonald, who represented Canada in many international meets before retiring this year, said they might finish one-two in Perth if both are selected to the Canadian team.

TOPS WOMEN DIVERS
Judy Stewart, a 38-pound 18-year-old from Toronto, won the women's one-metre springboard and her performance prompted diving judges to say she is reaching international standards.

The team, to include 10 and possibly 12 members, will be named Saturday night.

Steve Rabinovitch, Allison Glendenning and the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association men's 400-yard freestyle relay team, anchored by Richard Pound, were the Montreal record breakers.

Rabinovitch twice lowered his own 110-yard breaststroke mark, first in the heats which he led in 1:14.9 and then in the final where he won in 1:11.0, well below his previous 1:15.1 set in 1959.

Miss Glendenning, 16, cracked the women's 100-yard breaststroke mark, leading the heats and winning the final in the identical times of 1:22.3, compared with the previous record of 1:25.2 set by Janice Shepp of Winnipeg in 1959.

Anron eliminated a four-hit night with a ninth-inning, bases-loaded homer that gave Milwaukee Braves an 8-6 victory over St. Louis Cardinals.

Robinson had three hits and batted in three runs, including the clincher, in Cincinnati Reds' 6-4 decision over Chicago Cubs and Clemente helped Pittsburgh Pirates trim Houston Colts 6-4 with three hits.

Davis managed only a single Thursday night but drove in his first run of the season as the Dodgers beat the last-place New York Mets 3-0 on a combined three-hit batter by Sandy Koufax and Larry Sherry.

Aron eliminated a four-hit night with a ninth-inning, bases-loaded homer that gave Milwaukee Braves an 8-6 victory over St. Louis Cardinals.

Canada-U.S. Tennis Draw For Friday

CLEVELAND (AP) — Francois Godbout of Waterloo, Que., and Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., will meet in the opening singles match of the Canada-U.S. Davis Cup tennis competition Friday.

Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., was selected to play the second singles for the U.S. against Don Fontana of Toronto, captain of the Canadian team.

The doubles teams for Saturday's matches will be named Friday.

For Sunday's final singles match, McKinley will face Fontana in the opener, with Douglas meeting Godbout in the second match. There is a possibility of substitutions for the Sunday matches after the team captains see how Friday's play comes out.

REGISTER 3-1 WIN

Labatts Clip OBC's To Take 4th Place

Catcher Wayne Leonard cracked a two-run eighth-inning homer Thursday night to lead the Kelowna Labatts to a 3-1 victory over Oliver OBC's.

The win moves the locals into undisputed possession of fourth place in the Okanagan Mainline Baseball League.

Leonard's big blow broke up a tight pitching duel between Labatts' Bud Englesby, who went all the way for the win, recording 11 strikeouts and giving up only three safeties, and loser Gary Driesen who allowed eight hits.

Both pitched steady ball till the seventh inning. Labatts' Du Pliske was the first runner to reach third base and eventually came in to score the game's initial run on a single to right by second baseman Gerry Goyer.

Oliver came back in the eighth when the Kelowna pitcher gave up a walk, passed another batter who was nicked by a fastball, and a single by Driesen. A long fly ball brought the tying run home.

Labatts came storming back in the bottom half of the inning with a single by first baseman Frank Fritz to centre field. Then Leonard picked his pitch and clouted a fastball over the right field fence.

With nobody out at this stage, Driesen had his work cut out to stem the tide. Lee Day, the next man up singled to left and it looked like the hometown boys were really going to rack up a score but Rich Wickenheiser hit into a double play to put out the fire.

Oliver made a strong bid in the top of the ninth to get back in the game but Englesby was equal to the occasion as he struck out the last three men to face him after giving up a walk to the lead off batter.

Cleveland Indians scout supervisor Jeff Heath, currently attending the Okanagan Baseball School at Oliver, travelled to Kelowna with the OBC's to take in last night's game and survey future prospects.

Arnold Palmer Shatters Old Troon Course Record

TROON, Scotland (CP-AP) — Defending champion Arnold Palmer shattered the course record at Old Troon with a five-under-par 67 in the third round of the British Open golf championship today and carried a five-stroke lead into the final 18 holes.

The long-hitting star from Latrobe, Pa., clipped two strokes off the record for the tough course with his blistering round of 35-32.

His 54-hole total of 207 gave him a five-stroke lead over Kel Nagle of Australia, an old rival who beat Palmer by a stroke for the 1960 title. Lefthander Bob Charles of New Zealand was another three strokes back with 215.

Both Nagle and Charles had 70s today. At one point the 41-year-old Nagle had made up the two-stroke lead Palmer carried into the third round and gone ahead himself by a stroke.

None of the other 36 survivors in the oldest of championships was in contention as players prepared for the final round this afternoon in the exhausting 36-hole windup.

At this stage Palmer was nine under par for the tournament and Nagle, a big, florid-faced Sydney pro, was four under par. Nagle, ranning birdie putts on the first two holes, forged ahead of Palmer at the fourth hole this morning, but the American regained the lead with birdies on the fifth and sixth.

Nagle, starting the third round two strokes behind with 142 to Palmer's 140, took the lead with a par five at the long fourth hole, where Palmer was bunkered and barely got out to take a six.

But Palmer staged a brilliant rally, hitting the green on the 210-yard fifth hole and sinking a 10-foot putt for a birdie four and then getting a birdie four on the 580-yard sixth. There Palmer ripped out a long drive and sent a tremendous second into a bunker to the left of the green.

He blasted out four feet from the cup and sank his birdie putt.

Palmer's birdie putt was the first of his four birdies in the final round.

Nuxhall Helps Padres Clip Hawaii 2-1

Southpaw Joe Nuxhall pitched and batted San Diego to a 10-inning 2-1 victory over Hawaii Thursday night and the victory, backed by a rainout at Salt Lake City, stretched the Padres Pacific Coast League lead to four full games.

The veteran Nuxhall's 400-foot homer was one of four hits given up by Hawaii's hard-luck right-hander Ben Johnson who struck out 11 Padres as he picked up his third PCL loss against five wins. It was his number eight for Nuxhall, who gave up nine hits.

In other games, second-place Salt Lake City and Seattle were rained out at Salt Lake City. Vancouver beat Portland 6-4 and Spokane downed Tacoma 8-2.

Vancouver bats crushed Portland. The Mounties collected a homer and a triple by Jim Snyder and four doubles in a 10-hit attack. Portland got 13 hit taut Dave Ricketts' double was the only one for extra bases.

Thad Tillotson allowed Tacoma but three four as he hung up his fourth win against 11 losses in a Spokane uniform. Spokane topped Tacoma pitchers for 15 hits. The Giants used four pitchers with the loss going to Gerry Thomas, his eighth in 11 starts.

Bawden Outfit Heads Chuckwagons

CALGARY (CP) — The largest fourth-day attendance in the history of the Calgary Stampede jostled through the turnstiles Thursday.

The 84,463 paid admissions brought to 340,588 the number of persons who attended the show since it opened Monday and bolstered hopes that a record would be set this year.

Cowboys competing for a share of the $90,000 purse were expected to put all their energy into their performances on the last two days, today and Saturday.

The Peter Bawden outfit from Calgary remained at the head of the chuckwagon pack Thursday, maintaining the hot pace it started four days earlier.

A historical pageant which spanned a century of Calgary's history was also performed. It featured Buffalo, Indians, police, settlers, cowboys and even a miniature oil derrick.

A packed grandstand was treated to an unusual display of trail riding when a herd of 30 horses broke out of the planned race track route. Cowboys who rounded them up drew extra applause for the trouble.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
THIS DAY'S fortunes, whether for good or bad, are largely up to yourself, to make or mar by your own actions and attitudes.
There is a tendency to worry or be impatient at delay, but you can overcome this by taking things in stride and letting situations develop by themselves.
There is no urgency or need for haste.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, the year ahead should prove unusually stimulating. Personal affairs should run smoothly, and where business and financial matters are concerned, there are some excellent periods in the offing. In fact the latter part of this month will be generous to your interests; also September, November, late December and the first six months of 1963.

Avoid extravagance or speculation in August, October and next March, however.

Along personal lines, domestic matters should prove most harmonious for the next 12 months, and romance will be generously aspected in September and November; also next May. Best periods for travel: late September and next January. Those in creative lines should find September and November highly stimulating and their efforts then should lead to extraordinary recognition in 1963.

A child born on this day will be extremely sentimental and will have a great love of home and its surroundings.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By E. JAY BECKER
(Top Record-Holder in Masters' Individual Championship Play)

QUIZ
You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:
North East South West
1♣ Pass 1♣ Pass
2♠ Pass ?

What would you now bid with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠Q8632 ♥K72 ♦J95 ♣83
2. ♠A9742 ♥8 ♦Q65 ♣K754
3. ♠AKJ53 ♥863 ♦K82 ♣J7
4. ♠AK85 ♥74 ♦J63 ♣AJ52

1. Pass. The three club bid is not forcing and merely urges us to bid again if possible. It invites a further bid if we have more than the 6-point minimum ordinarily expected of a suit response in the one level. Since we have no excess values beyond those already announced, the best thing to do is pass.

2. Five clubs. We don't have much in high cards, but what we have is well laid out. Not only do we hold good support for partner's suit, but we also have first round control of spades, second round control of hearts, and the queen of diamonds for whatever it is worth.

All these features add up to more than a simple raise to four clubs, which we would give if we held, say, the queen of spades instead of the ace. The jump to five permits partner to go on to a slam with a suitable hand.

3. Three diamonds. This is an all-purpose bid. At the moment, it seems likely that the best contract is game in spades or notrump. The three diamond bid enables partner to contract for three notrump with heart strength, and also permits him to bid three spades if he has secondary support for that suit.

It is better to bid three diamonds than three spades. The failure to mention diamonds might result in by-passing the best contract of three notrump.
The inequality of our two suits is ignored for the sake of testing for the best contract. An added advantage of bidding the second suit is that it warns partner we may be short in clubs.

4. Six clubs. Here you have to grab the bull by the horns and bid the slam. Partner is known to have jumped in clubs with the A-J, and since he has at most only 3 points in clubs, he is bound to have considerable

Sask. Gov't To Investigate Complaints About Doctors

REGINA (CP) — The Saskatchewan government said Thursday an investigation will be made of complaints against doctors who are not supporting the 'walkout' of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons in the medical care dispute.

The government said a one-man royal commission will investigate complaints made against doctors recruited to help fill gaps left when most of the practising doctors withdrew service July 1 to protest against the CCF government's compulsory prepaid medical care plan.

Fewer than 200 doctors have been providing emergency service at designated hospitals. The service is being provided by the college and co-ordinated by the Canadian Medical Association.

Premier Woodrow Lloyd said in a statement evidence has accumulated that the college, responsible for licensing doctors in the province, is seeking to use police powers as "an offensive weapon against doctors who are not supporting the college's walkout."

The college said in a statement the charges are "completely without foundation."

LOOKS INTO CHARGES

The college said under the province's Medical Professions Act it is empowered to investigate any charges against its registrants and that it was the duty of the college registrar to do so.

Chisholm Hands Out A Warning

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Dr. Brock Chisholm of Victoria warned the Communist-backed World Peace Congress today that in present conditions no part of the world can ensure its security at the expense of another part.

"Our survival as the human race depends on how we learn to co-operate with all kinds of people," he said.

Chisholm, former head of the World Health Organization, said that there had "always been wars in the history of mankind, but today the very conditions of man's existence have changed."

"The notion that a part of mankind can ensure its security at the expense of another now is a thing of the past. Warfare today is synonymous with suicide."

NEW SURVIVAL CONDITIONS

Mankind now confronts conditions for survival that are new the Canadian scientist declared.

"We haven't shown the ability to meet the new conditions, and warfare worked only so long as killing was piecemeal. But now weapons are capable of destroying the whole human race four times over."

"Those who believed that they would be secure if 'all people were killed' made no sense whatever," he said.

Chisholm, author of the book A Program for Survival, said: "We are members of the human race and we survive as members of the human race or not at all."

Government representatives are:

George V. Hyathorne, deputy minister of labor, James A. Roberts, deputy minister of trade and commerce, and B. G. Barrow, assistant deputy minister of trade.

Dr. G. Edward Hall, president of the University of Western Ontario, London, will represent education on the mission.

Mr. DeYoung, chairman of the productivity council and president of Atlas Steels, will head the mission.

The mission will leave July 20 and return Aug. 1. It will visit Sweden, The Netherlands, West Germany, France, Belgium and England.

WEeping MEMORIAL

WANGANUI, N.Z. (CP) — The slab of granite under the Book of Remembrance at the Wanganui War Memorial is weeping. Moisture has been showing on the face of the stone since it was installed, and the city engineer believes condensation is the reason.

India, Soviet Agree On Jets

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — The Indian government has concluded an agreement with Russia for the manufacture in India of Soviet supersonic jet engines, reliable sources said here today.

While no official details were available, these sources said the agreement provided for the manufacture of Soviet RD-9 engines in India.

The engines will be used to power Indian-designed HF-24 supersonic jet planes now being developed at the Hindustan aircraft factory at Bangalore in south India.

The Indian government had earlier planned to equip the fighter with the British Orpheus jet engine but abandoned the idea because of the high cost, the sources said.

Top-Level Trade Team For European Labor Study

OTTAWA (CP) — A top-level team of Canadian union, business and government leaders will fly overseas this month to find out how labor-management-government co-operation works in Europe.

The 13-man mission, sponsored by the National Productivity Council, will visit six European countries to examine their co-operative action on productivity and economic development.

Announcement of the mission was made today by George DeYoung, chairman of the 25-member productivity council established in 1960.

"Things may not be perfect over there but we think there is something to learn from it," Toronto, director of District 6, Ontario-to-British Columbia, co-operation in Europe," said Mr. DeYoung in a statement naming the members of the mission.

Man vs Machine Dilemma Faces US-Canada Defence

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian and United States defence departments are caught in a peculiar man-versus-machine situation in the field of North American air defence.

The solution is: More money.

The situation came about this way:

The radar system controlling the operations of jet interceptors used to be run manually. One man could handle five interceptors at a time.

With the increasing speed of jet bombers, this system came to be regarded as much too slow.

Automation was built in the system. Semi-automatic ground environment (SAGE) collects data from the search radars, works out a course for a jet interceptor and relays it to the plane. This SAGE system—21 control centres in the U.S., one in Canada—cost hundreds of millions of dollars. The Canadian SAGE, near North Bay, Ont., is scheduled to come into operation in January.

But what, defence planners then asked themselves, would happen if bombers knocked out most or all of the SAGE system? Answer: There wouldn't be anybody or anything to show the interceptors the way to their targets.

MODIFY OLD SYSTEM

Consequently, the manual control system will be re-introduced in modified form.

It is known as "backup intercept control" and the code name is "system 418-L."

It will cost approximately $93,000,000 to put this backup system into 24 heavy radar sites in Canada and the U.S. There will be some automatic equipment so that the system will be able to control as well as the Boreas anti-aircraft missile, something not possible with the pre-SAGE manual operation.

How much of this $93,000,000 Canada will have to put up hasn't been worked out yet with the U.S. defence department. The usual apportionment in the defence field has been that Canada bears one-third the cost.
